Teaching and Learning: Lingering Effects of the Pandemic

- Despite schools being fully open the past two years, educators continue to address learning gaps developed because of the interruptions to teaching and learning in the pandemic.
- Meeting the increased student need for additional academic and social-emotional supports continues to be a challenge for schools.
- While student attendance improved last year, many schools continued to see high rates of chronic absenteeism.
- The RI COVID-19 Academic Impact Report, released in 2022, found significant impacts across the state, concluding that recovering to pre-pandemic levels of student achievement will require 3-5 years of accelerated learning strategies. Our progress is consistent with meeting this timeline for recovery.

LEAP Task Force Priorities

The LEAP Task Force identified the following priorities to accelerate student learning and move our PK-12 system forward. This work continues to elevate and center the needs of Rhode Island students who are multilingual, differently-abled, and who live in the urban core through explicitly anti-racist, equity-focused lens.

-  Energize our school communities— students and educators— by launching a back-to-school campaign and statewide toolkit, with attention to students who are chronically absent and opportunity youth.
-  Ensure all students have access to high-quality and personalized support from adults, both during the school day and through extended learning, partnerships for before/after school, or summer learning opportunities.
-  Universally screen all students and align resources to need.
-  Improve and support student transitions, across grades and systems.
-  Close the digital divide.

RICAS Math By Item Type

Students can benefit from being provided with regular opportunities to solve multi-part problems and show their work and explain their reasoning.

Compared to the previous year, students scored better on the Mathematics RICAS across all response types—selected response, short answer, and constructed response. The increase was particularly notable in selected response (the average score increased by 7%) and short answer (11%).

Constructed response items, in which students answer multi-part questions, showing calculations and work or explanations, continued to be the most difficult questions for students. An example of this type of problem is shown to the right.

This question has four parts.

Five-Year Comparison on ACCESS

- Generally, there has been little change in ACCESS performance in the past three years.
- Between 2021-22 to 2022-23, there has been an increase in the percentage of students at the Expanding and Bridging levels, which is promising.

2022-23 ACCESS Results by Grade

- In Rhode Island, we consistently see the highest ELP levels in grades 4-5. MLLs typically exit MLL programming in those grades.
- In the secondary grades, statewide ACCESS performance drops significantly, with over a third of MLLs in grades 6-8 and over half of MLLs in grades 9-12 at the Entering and Emerging levels in 2022-23.

Newcomer MLLs: ACCESS Results Over Time

- Statewide more Newcomers entered the state leading to an increase of students performing at entering and emerging levels.
- The percentage of Newcomers with Entering levels of proficiency increased from 35% in 18-19 to 40.4% in 22-23. During this same time, the percentage of Newcomers at the Developing and Expanding levels decreased from 39% to 34%.

Long-Term MLLs: ACCESS Results Over Time

- Statewide Long-Term MLL performance was higher in 22-23 than it was in the past four years. 20% of Long-Term MLLs scored at the Expanding and Bridging levels.
- What has remained consistent is that half of this population scored at the Developing levels of proficiency.

Six-Year Comparison on Alternate ACCESS

- Statewide performance on Alternate ACCESS has changed in proportion with the increase in the number of students taking the assessment.
- In 22-23, the percentage of students scoring at P1 and P2 was down to 39%, from 42% in 21-22. The percentage of students scoring at the A1 and A2 levels of proficiency remained relatively the same as 21-22.

Takeaways

2023

RHODE ISLAND

Major Takeaways

1. Participation increased across all state assessments
 - Math
 - ELA
 - Science
 - SAT
 - PSAT
2. Performance increased RICAS ELA and mathematics
 - The state focus on High Quality Instructional Materials and strong instruction in foundational skills is beginning to pay off
 - This is the second consecutive year of significant growth in RICAS math statewide.
3. NGSA Science performance showed no significant change across grades.
4. While SAT performance in NH and CT declined, RI performance is trending in a positive direction
5. RI has closed performance gaps with MA by close to 50%
6. Suburban and urban districts have made improvements overall, although significant differences in the levels of proficiency by students in urban districts versus those in suburban districts continue.
7. Significant performance gaps exist for students who are chronically absent.

Takeaway 1: Participation Rates Increased

Across all state assessments in mathematics, ELA and science, participation rates have increased from 2022.

Takeaway 2: Student Performance in ELA and Math Improving

What the data tells us:

- RICAS data indicates an increase in student performance overall across the state for both ELA and math. Performance in mathematics is beginning to show similar proficiency levels as those before the pandemic.
- SAT Mathematics performance remains relatively unchanged, ELA shows an increase.

How RI is addressing this:

- RIDE, along with schools and districts, have been providing educators with professional learning on the Science of Reading and Structured Literacy in support of the Right to Read Act.
- RIDE continues to provide technical assistance using assessment and accountability data to refocus strategic plans on areas of greatest need.
- LEAs have adopted high quality curriculum materials and have now shifted their focus to the multiyear process of supporting educators to teach new materials effectively.

Takeaway 3: Science Performance Relatively Unchanged

What the data tells us:

NGSA proficiency scores overall indicate no significant change from 2022.

How RI is addressing this:

Curriculum Frameworks

Published fall 2022, support NGSS instructional practices, and assessments.

Interim will use the Science Interim Assessments as a formative screener to support improvement and inform instruction.

Supports to LEAs and Educators

To date 70 Science content leads are engaging in a professional learning series with coaching support.

Recommended Strategic Plan goal in science.

High Quality Curriculum Instructional Materials

13 districts and 72 teachers will pilot an Ed Reports approved curriculum fall 2023.

Takeaway 4: Cross-State Comparisons- SAT

What the data tells us:

- ELA is trending in a positive direction. Mathematics scores remain the same.
- While RI continues a positive trend, NH and CT continue to see decreases in both content areas.
- RI remains behind CT and NH in its overall percent of students achieving proficiency.

How RI is addressing this:

- Support curriculum adoption and implementation.
- Expand dual and concurrent enrollment opportunities as well as AP courses.
- Revised secondary regulations to ensure students are prepared for post-secondary opportunities.

Takeaway 5: Cross-State Comparisons – RICAS/MCAS

What the data tells us

RI has closed performance gaps with MA by close to 50% and is on track to meet MA's performance by 2030. Compared to 2018

RICAS Results:

- The ELA performance gap has closed from 17% to 9%
- The Math performance gap has closed from 21% to 11%

ELA: RI vs. MA Performance with 2023 Actual Performance

Math: RI vs. MA Performance with 2023 Actual Performance

To Meet MA Performance by 2030, RI is continuing to focus on:

- Support curriculum adoption and implementation.
- Support LEA writing instruction with AIM Pathways Writing Cohorts.
- Establish partnerships with municipal leaders for out-of-school learning opportunities and social-emotional learning.
- Support LEA implementation of the Right to Read Act.

Takeaway 6: Performance by Urbanicity

What the data tells us:

- RICAS ELA and Math performance has begun to show a positive trend in overall proficiency regardless of urbanicity.
- A wide gap continues to persist in both ELA and math between the performance of suburban districts and urban districts.

How RI is addressing this:

- Providing Algebra 1 supports.
- Addressing high school course taking patterns in mathematics.
- Continuing the District Support Program (DSP) and strategic plan assistance.

RICAS ELA

RICAS Math

SAT ELA

SAT Math

Urban: Central Falls, Pawtucket, Providence, Woonsocket

Urban Ring: Cranston, East Providence, Johnston, Newport, North Providence, Warwick, West Warwick

Charter schools are grouped by their geographical location.

Takeaway 7: Performance by Chronic Absenteeism

What the data tells us:

Significant performance gaps exist for students who are chronically absent. Chronically absents students, on average, performed lower than their not chronically absent peers by:

- RICAS: 18.8% performance gap for ELA and 20.0% for Math
- PSAT: 21.5% performance gap for ELA and 22.4% for Math
- SAT: 24.1% performance gap for ELA and 20.3% for Math

How RI is addressing this:

- Supporting LEAs to address student chronic absenteeism through RIDE's attendance nudge tool.
- Publishing interactive data-visualizations – including the real-time attendance leaderboard – leaders and stakeholders can see chronic absenteeism data and trends.
- Establishing partnerships with municipal leaders, LEAs, and community partners that have addressing student chronic absenteeism as a key focus.

What the Data Tell Us and Why It Matters

English Language Arts

1 in 3 Rhode Island students are meeting grade-level expectations in RICAS English language arts.

An increase in RICAS ELA supports a continued need for High Quality Instructional Materials to provide strong instruction with an emphasis on foundational skills as well as a focus on multi-tiered systems of support (MTSS) for all students.

Students who do not possess the necessary foundational skills in reading by third grade will not be successful in reading and comprehending grade level material; these students are four times more likely to drop out of high school.

Mathematics

About 1 in 3 Rhode Island students are meeting grade-level expectations in RICAS math.

An increase in RICAS Math scores supports the continued use of High Quality Instructional Materials with a focus on improving core instruction.

Students that do well in math tend to do better in school; math requires mastering problem-solving and boosts critical thinking.

Science

1 in 3 Rhode Island students are meeting grade-level expectations in NGSA science.

With relatively no change in Science NGSA, educators must begin to think about High Quality Instructional Materials for Science and support teachers in providing strong core instruction aligned to the science curriculum and standards.

Students who have strong science instruction can think critically, are able to analyze information, solve complex problems and possess the tools necessary to succeed throughout their educational and professional lives.
